

Our Authors

Kostiantyn Fedorenko is an expert and a Junior Research Fellow at Institute for Euro-Atlantic Cooperation. He graduated from Kyiv-Mohyla Academy and University of Hamburg. His sphere of academic interests includes European studies, electoral studies, and social movements. His recent publications include:

- 2014. Association Agreement and Civil Society / In Ukrainian: Угода про Асоціацію та громадянське суспільство // “EU-Ukraine Association Agreement: Perspective and Implementation Mechanisms”, Konrad Adenauer Foundation Policy Paper #22.
- 2014. Ten (Un)Easy Steps to Save Ukraine (in co-authorship with Andreas Umland) // Harvard International Review, August 2013.
- 2013. Protest Activity of the Far Right in Ukraine, 2010-2012: All-Ukrainian Union “Svoboda” in a comparative perspective / In Russian: Протестная активность крайних правых в Украине в 2010-2012

Olga R. Gulina is director and founder of the Institute on Migration Policy. She holds PhD in Migration Law (2010, University of Potsdam, Germany), PhD in Constitutional Law (2002, Bashkir State University, Russia), Certificate of Advanced Studies in Human Rights Law (2005, Helsinki Human Rights Foundation, Poland), Diploma in Law (Law Institute of Bashkir State University, Russia). Olga Gulina is the expert of Russian International Affairs Council, a member of the Network of Migration in the European Union and Alexander von Humboldt’s Alumni.

Mariëlle Wijermars is a graduate (MA in Slavic Languages and Cultures; MA in International Relations) of and PhD candidate at the University of Groningen. Her academic and professional interests include cultural memory studies, contemporary Russian politics, cultural policy, Russian and Soviet cinema and television, as well as new media. She has presented her research at international conferences in e.g. Makuhari, Cambridge, Oxford and Perm. Recent and forthcoming publications include:

- “Memory Politics beyond the Political Domain: The Historical Legitimation of the Power Vertical in Contemporary Russian Television” Problems of Post-Communism, forthcoming.
- “Encircling an Unrepresentable Past: The Aesthetic of Trauma in Karen Shakhnazarov’s Dreams (1993)” in: S. Brouwer, ed., Contested Memory on Screen: Conflicting Interpretations of the Past in Polish, Russian, and Ukrainian Films and Media. Brill, forthcoming.
- “Forget Memory. Aleksei Navalnyi’s LiveJournal and the Memory Discourse of the Protest Movement (2011-2012)” Digital Icons 12 (2014). Co-authored with Hanna Stähle.